SPRING--SINCLAIR.

Miss M. Louise Sinclair Becomes Bride of John C. Spring.

Occasion a Scene of Unrivalled Beauty Fashion, Youth and Flowers.

Never was the First Baptist church on Commonwealth avenue, Boston, more superbly decorated than last evening, when the wedding of Miss Louise Sinclair, third daughter of Charles A. Sinclair of Brookline, and Mr. John Cary Spring of Somerville took place. Long before the hour appointed, the many guests began to gather and were quickly shown to their allotted pews.

The decorations were beautiful, the pulpit being banked with tropical trees, crossed by masses of Easter lilies and hydrangeas against a backdrop of pink azaleas. Ropes of laurel festooned the galleries and high above the heads of the bridal party was suspended a huge bell of white carnations and bride roses.

It is doubtful if any such fashionable display in the way of gowns has been seen since the grand opera season, if then.
The great assemblage of guests was fairly radiant with varied coloring in the rarest and richest of fabrics, and that there is something new under the sun in the modiste's world was clearly demonstrated by the presence among the ultra fashionables of quite a number of creations that strongly suggested the farthingale of Queen Elizabeth's day or the crinoline of Marie Antoinette's.

One particularly charming characteristic of the affair was its utter freedom from conventionalism in all its details.
The music was calculated to depict the emotions of those who were present, several special numbers incident to the ceremony enlisting the services of singers and a harpist.

While the wedding guests were arriving a contralto vocalist sang "My love is like a red, red rose," to the accompaniment of harp and organ.

The march from "Lohengrin" was played as the procession moved toward the altar, led by the ushers, Messrs. Rollies T. Lincoln, E. D. Donahoe, Norman W. Bingham and Percy W. Sylvester of Somer ville, and A. F. Woods and Walter Gooding of Boston.

Directly behind was Marie, the 10-year-old sister of the bride, officiating as a flower girl, and dressed all in pink tulle and taffeta, and carrying a basket of fragrant spring blossoms.

As to the bridesmaids, who came next, Misses Martha Fowler of Haverhill and Bertha Dunlop of Chicago wore pale green taffeta and carried white lilies; Misses Josephine Carpenter of West Newton and Maude Berry of Portsmouth wore pale lavender and had bouquets of violets; and Misses Mary Linder of Newton and Maude Cleveland of Cambridge wore pale yellow and had yellow daffodils.

Each of the maids had a filmy overdress of white tulle, pair ribbons to match the gown, and a French enameled four-leaved clover pin with diamond center, gifts from the bride.

The maid of honor's souvenir pin was an enameled ivy wreath, the leaves alternating with diamonds.

The bride, of medium height, slender and fair, was beautiful in her rich gown of duchess satin and lace, with yoke decorated with pearl embroidery, tulle veil and orange blossoms.

She wore the groom's gift, a handsome pin of pearls and diamonds, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley with showing ribbon streamers.

She leaned upon the arm of her father till she reached the altar, where the groom and his best man, A. C. Whittier, awaited her.

The ceremony was performed by the pastor of the church, Rev. Dr. Nathan Wood, and Rev. Dr. W. H. Alden of Portsmouth, N. H., who married the bride's parents.

During the service Mendelssohn's "Spring Song" was played with exquisite delicacy by Miss Harriet Shaw of the Back Bay.

Just before the benediction "O, Perfect Love" was sung by a quartet consisting of Mrs. Marion Titus, Miss Gertrude Edmonds, and Messrs. Herbert Johnson and Arthur Berensford.

Mendelssohn's wedding march furnished the accompaniment for the exit from the church, the little flower girl scattering her spring flowers in the path of the bridal couple.

A reception in every way worthy to follow such a ceremony took place between 8 and 10 at the Sinclair residence, corner of Beacon and Kent streets, which was literally ablaze with red, white and blue electric lights, so appropriate to the present situation. They were festooned upon the front of the house and from tree to tree and all about the great lawn and driveway in front.

The richly furnished reception rooms were decorated with rare taste, with cool-looking dark green plants and great masses of Jack roses, almost as big as lettuce heads, and the halls had garlands of hydrangeas and clusters of the simple yet welcome flowers of the present season.

The Boston instrumental club furnished the music.

One large room was filled with the wedding gifts, which represented thousands of dollars.

Mrs. Sinclair, the bride's mother, wore blue brocade with yoke of pearl embroidery, and Mrs. Craigie Spring, mother of the groom, lavender brocade satin.

The bride's two elder sisters, Mrs. F. N.
Merrill, both married within a year or two, were present, and both in their wedding gowns.

The Portsmouth contingent among the guests included Hon. and Mrs. Frank Jones, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Benedict, Hon. and Mrs.
C. P. Berry, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Berry,
Mr. and Mrs. William Moat, Mr. and Mrs.
William K. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel L. Avitt, Mr. and Mrs. Justin V. Hason, Mr. and Mrs. J.
Fullerton Shaw, Miss Sadie Eldredge, Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Bennett.

A "MEDICINE" VALISE

Police Arrested Man With Heavy Load Last Night

Officer Stuart, last evening, arrested a man whom the police regard as a sort of walking distillery. The man was put off the 10 o'clock Pullman at the Eastern railroad station by the conductor as he had no ticket or means to carry him any farther. He got on the train at Portsmouth, N. H., and carried a valise which was pretty heavy. Besides the valise he had another load, made up of Portsmouth liquor, probably, which got him in trouble.
When the conductor asked for his ticket he said that he had lost it on the train, and finally the conductor let him ride as far as this city, and then gave him a polite invitation to get off. This he would not do, and Officer Stuart went to the rescue of the ticket puncher.

The man was placed under arrest by officer Stuart and his valise was taken to the police station where he was locked up for the night.

After the man was searched the officers opened the valise. It contained a quart bottle filled with wine and a dozen or more bottles filled with other liquors.
Some of the bottles contained the ingredients of what is known as home made whiskey.

A bottle of whiskey was taken from the man's clothing.

This morning, when arraigned before Recorder Weymouth, he gave the name of David Rogers, and pleaded guilty to the charge of intoxication. In answer to the court's questions, Rogers said that he was in the "medicine" business and that the goods found in his valise were used to make up prescriptions. He formerly resided in Kennebunkport and lived in this city, but at present his home is in Ber-kely, Mass. He denied that he was selling intoxicating liquors from his pocket.

Recorder Weymouth fined him $5 and costs. As Rogers has no money he will have to go to jail for thirty days.—Biddeford Journal.

Knows Cuban Coast

Capt. George Lord, of the schooner Ira Bliss, now in this port, has seen many years service in Cuban waters and is well acquainted with the entire coast, from Cape Maisi on the east to Cape San Antonio on the west. For nine years Capt. Lord was engaged in the transportation of fruit from Cuban ports and for three years was in the wrecking business among the keys off that coast. His sympathies are entirely with the insurgents, and all native Cubanos are insurgents he says. During the ten years' war he rendered much service to the rebels and aided several prominent Cuban families to escape to this country. He witnessed the massacre of the Virginians' crew in 1873 and says the remembrances of the terrible scene will haunt him to his dying day.

He believes that retribution has at last overtaken Spain and that the cruelties of 400 years are to be avenged. Capt.
Lord says his services are at the command of the government as pilot or in any other capacity, if required. He will visit Commodore Remy while here and offer his services to the government.

association held Tuesday evening the following members were elected to positions nett;

The old machine was given a trial on the parade this afternoon in the presence of several hundred people. A number of South Berwick firemen were present to witness the trial.

ceived by the officer in charge of Fort Constitution on Wednesday afternoon, the 20th inst., and some important movements are looked for.

passing through the Dover Point bridge, on Wednesday, 20th inst., had his leg caught in a hawser and it was broken in two places. He was taken to the Cottage hospital in this city.

Message Received From Woodford

(Special to the Herald) WASHINGTON, D. C., April 21.—The State department received a message from Minister Woodford this morning. Judge Day took it in to the President at once.
Secretary Porter was despatched to the senate foreign relations committee.

FAST DAY

Not Generally Observed as a Holiday in This City

A stranger coming into town today would never know it was a holiday as far as appearances are concerned. Nearly all of the merchants opened up during the morning but most of them closed their doors at noon.

The gun club held an all day shoot and entertained a number of out of town visitors. Company A put in the day at rifle practice at their range on Lafayette road while the ball game between the High school and the Cycle club at Langdon park drew out a small band of enthusiasts.

Quite a number of Portsmouth people went to Boston on the early morning trains and took in the theatres. The electric road did a good business and carried crowds of people all day.

A Rush on Coal

The local coal dealers are flooded with orders from people around town who are anxious to lay in their next winter's coal before the prices go up which they are sure to do in case of war. One dealer received thirty orders yesterday from townspeople, each order calling for from four to twenty tons of coal. The coal dealers are working night and day discharging the enormous amount of coal now at the docks. Captain Hand of the steamer Charles F. Mayer who was asked by a North end dealer if he could go to Baltimore and return at once with two more barges, coal laden, answered that he would try but could not guarantee to land the coal in this harbor. He said he would start but beyond that he could tell nothing.

Mrs. U. G. Swett last evening. At the close of the business of the meeting the evening was spent in a social manner.
Daisy refreshments were served. The company dispersed at an early hour hoping to meet on many more such occasions.

Reform School This Time

Merle Clough, a sixteen-year old girl, once more occupies the woman's cell at the police station, and this time promises will do no good. She will be sent to the reform school. About two weeks ago she left home and was gone two days. The officers found her in a house of not too good reputation. She promised Marshal Entwistle to do better in the future and was taken home to her mother. Last night she stayed away from home again and was found at the Creek by Officer Hurley this morning. She claims to have stopped in a house on Cass street last night but refuses to tell which one.

MINISTER GOT PASSPORTS.

Spain's Diplomatic Representation Is Terminated.

POLO BERNABE CROSSED THE LINE

Spoke Feelingly of the Cause of His Departure.

President Waiting Formally to Hear From Spain Before Using the Power Given by Congress—No Privateering to Be Resorted To—Calling Out the Volunteers a Matter of Concern to War Department Officials, Owing to Organization Conditions and a Conflict of States—State of Feeling in Madrid.

Washington, April 21.—The Spanish minister, accompanied by six members of his staff, left Washington at 7:30 o'clock last night, and the Spanish government thus terminated its diplomatic representation in the United States.
His party left for Toronto. The minister and his party will stop for a day at two on the Canadian side of the suspension bridge and will then spend some days in Toronto. From there they go to Halifax to take an ocean liner.

The departure was made without noticeable demonstration. Although a considerable number of secret agents and officers were on duty at the depot there was at no time any occasion for doing more than keeping back a crowd of curious onlookers. The minister stood on the front platform and had a few parting words with his friends.
He spoke feelingly of his departure, saying the circumstances were most painful to him. One of his intimates ventured the suggestion that he would be back soon again under much more favorable circumstances, but he shook his head and said he feared this could not be the case. His request for his pas-ports had been made only after the enactment of a law which attacked Spain's sovereignty, impugned her honor and insulted her.

Lieutenant Canthas said: "History has recorded that even the legions of Napoleon, with nearly 400,000 men bearing the triumphs of all Europe, were battered and retired from Spain after three years' battle, between 200,000 and 300,000 men. We recognize the gallantry of the American navy and the notable heroes of its past, but Spain, too, has her heroes, and their blood is in the veins of those now called upon to defend her honor. I speak after recently visiting with my associates, commanders of Spanish ships and of torpedo boats, and I know that there is but one sentiment, namely, that not one Spanish ship shall be taken. Your navy may send some of them to the bottom; superior forces may seek to annihilate them, but not one Spanish ship will surrender to the American navy. It is honor at stake, that will be the response of the navy of Spain."

A MERE FORMALITY.

Aggressive Action Delayed Pending Delivery of the Ultimatum in Madrid.

Washington, April 21.—Monday was a day of events in the history of the Cuban question. The signature by the president of the joint resolution requiring intervention in Cuba; the notification of that action to the Spanish minister here, his demand for passports, the department's prompt reply, and the departure of the minister, and the transmission of our ultimatum that Spain must evacuate Cuba and must make answer by Saturday through Minister Woodford followed in rapid succession. The next step is Spain's answer, if she is to make any, and the movement of the United States army and navy on Cuba.

At first there was some expectation at the state department that a response from Minister Woodford might be received Monday, but later on, after Judge Day had calculated the length of time that would be consumed in the cabling of the ultimatum, its translation into cipher and retranslation, he became convinced that it would be practically impossible to receive the answer so soon.
Therefore the following statement was posted at the department: "The text of the ultimatum to Spain will be given out by Mr. Porter, secretary to the president, at the white house some time tomorrow probably."

The president spent nearly all of the afternoon with prominent officials discussing war measures. General Miles brought with him several maps and other documents, and the matters under discussion had special reference to the contemplated movement against Cuba.
Another matter which occupied a share of the time was the question of issuing a proclamation calling for volunteers in anticipation of the early passage of the bill authorizing the president to raise a volunteer army. The form of a proclamation, it is said, has been determined and the president has been experienced in allotting a proper quota to each state.

The next move must now be made by Spain, according to the department officials. If the Spanish government takes the view that in language and terms the congressional resolution is insulting, it may promptly hand Mr. Woodford his passports on receipt of this communication; and thus bring the negotiations to a crisis and cause a breach of diplomatic relations with 24 hours. If, on the other hand, it should neglect to return a satisfactory answer before Saturday noon, that line of policy will be quite as effective as a positive act, as it would amount to refusal of the demands of the United States. In such case the president would proceed immediately to use the naval and military forces of the United States to execute the will of congress.

If this would be done, what steps shall be first taken—whether Havana shall be blockaded, or whether an attempt shall be made to make a speedy campaign by landing a large force of troops in Havana under cover of bombardment by the fleet—are matters of mere speculation. The experts of the army and navy have laid their plans with the greatest detail for the future, but they say that any attempt to make these public in advance, to the manifest advantage of Spain, would be actual treason.

Ane policy to be followed by this government in the treatment of neutrals and in regard to privateering is contained in the following statement: In the event of hostilities between the United States and Spain, it will be the policy of this government not to resort to privateering. The government will adhere to the following rules: First, a neutral flag covers an enemy's goods with the exception of contraband of war.
Second, neutral goods not contraband of war are not liable to confiscation under an enemy's flag.
Third, blockades in order to be binding must be effective.
This doctrine is undoubtedly laid down to meet the various inquiries received by the diplomatic representatives of the United States from foreign governments as to the attitude assumed by the United States. It is substantially in line with the rules practiced in the Chinese-Japanese war, placing the United States in a most advanced position so far as the protection of individual property and neutral goods at sea is concerned.
The Spanish goods are made free from seizure on the seas in the bottoms of a neutral power. This decision on the part of our government will doubtless be welcomed in Europe.

Word came to the navy department that the Pelayo, Vizcaya and Oquendo are at anchor in the Verde Islands in company with the torpedo boat flotilla.
It is realized that this constitutes a most formidable naval force—in the opinion of experts equal to our flying squadron in Hampton roads.

The department is a good deal disturbed about the Somers, now lying at Falmouth, England, and the fact that for means to bring her to the United States with safety, so far without success.

The object of most concern at the war department was the calling out of volunteers. This turns out to be a much more complicated question than at first appeared, and the officials in despair are looking to congress for immediate relief in this extremity. There are all sorts of ambiguities and conflicts in the existing laws, which, it is said, consist of nothing more than a lot of patchwork dating from the beginning of the republic. It is recalled that at first President Lincoln was obliged to call upon congress to validate the calls he had been forced to issue for troops, and no successful effort has been made since that day to provide adequate machinery whereby the government might avail itself in an emergency of the vast resources of the United States in the way of troops. One of the difficulties that confronted the officials, when it was supposed that the way had been cleared in a certain measure for the use of the national guard as United States volunteer troops, was a conflict between sections 106 and 104, revised statutes. It was the purpose of the department to deference to the wishes of the national guardmen, to allow them to preserve their own organizations in the event that they are called into the national service, but the national guard regu-laments are all organized on the three battalion basis, and the country regu-laments consist of 12 companies, with majors, battalion adjutants, etc. The regular army organization provides for one major, a very much reduced staff of officers and 10 companies. It is manifestly improper, therefore, to muster the national guardmen to the army with their present organization, and it is believed to be inexpedient to attempt to reorganize the guard on so short notice.

The military enthusiasm has spread to the capital, usually so unobtrusive, and the city is brilliant with stars and stripes. Along F street and other thoroughfares yesterday nearly every building flew the flag, and some of the larger business houses took on the appearance of an inauguration day. Several of them were literally covered with red, white and blue bunting. In the residential portions of the city many houses had the colors, and the city generally had a holiday aspect. Passengers arriving from a distance reported that the enthusiasm was general in the country.
Nearly every railway station was decorated, especially along the routes of the troops now in motion. At every hamlet and village the flag was in evidence, and cheerful crowds everywhere greeted the military trains.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Senatorial Utterance That Caused a Profound Sensation.

Washington, April 21.—During the five hours of discussion in the senate yesterday afternoon of its recent action upon the Cuban resolution, in the course of which several extended speeches were made by senators who voted against the conference report upon the resolution, only one new point was developed. That was made by Mr.
Foraker in the course of a brief statement concerning the recognition of the Cuban republic's independence. He said: "It has been said, and I repeat it, that the ultimatum has been sent to Spain, pursuant to the resolutions passed here, this government has practically recognized the republic of Cuba; and I think possibly it is true we will all know by tomorrow that the government is today officially dealing with the representatives of this government as it should be."

This utterance, coming from a member of the foreign relations committee, created a profound sensation among the senators. Being pressed for the source of his information, Mr. Foraker replied that his information was "positive, but not official."

Little progress was made by the sundry civil bill, upon which the Cuban discussion was hung, but in the last minutes of the session an amendment was agreed to providing for the payment to Great Britain of the Bering sea award amounting to $475,151.

The house yesterday passed an emergency war measure the bill empowering the president to call out the volunteer forces and providing for their organization. Both the president and Secretary Alger had urged the imperative necessity of the passage of the bill, and Chairman Hurd drove it through under a whip and spur. The act was drafted at the war department, introduced in the house Monday, and considered and reported by the committee Wednesday. Such expedition could not have been possible except under the stress of war pressure.

announced the organization on the record should be filed in the record and pension office of the war department.

TO VOTE WAR CREDITS.

Madrid, April 21.—The senators and deputies, in the lobby of parliament last night, talked heatedly and declared the demands of the United States would be energetically rejected, and that all the war credits would be voted without demur, the chambers sitting all night long if necessary.

The queen regent's address said:
"Should the government of the United States demand the extradition of the menaces and insults which we have hitherto been able to regard with indifference (for they were not an expression of the sentiments of the true American nation) would become intolerable provocations which would compel my government, in defence of the national dignity, to sever relations with the government of the United States. Spain's gratitude is due to the pope and to the great powers, whose actions strengthen my conviction that Spain's cause deserves universal sympathy and that her conduct merits unanimous approval. It is possible, however, that an act of aggression is imminent and that no one can deny the responsibility of the gov-
wish of the Cuban people freely manifested, may serve to restrain the passions and hinder let loose against the Spanish fatherland."

The officials of the United States con-sulate in Glasgow have received inquiry from the British government for American volunteers for the United States. The consul has called to Washington for instructions.

CABINET FOR WAR.

London, April 21.—According to a dispatch from Madrid, the premier, on being asked the opinion of the cabinet as to the outlook, replied: "War! War! War!"

The Madrid correspondent of The Mail said that Woodford's family had gone to Biarritz. The American minister himself has taken tickets for the south of France. It is doubtful whether he will have an opportunity of presenting the American ultimatum since, in all probability, the foreign minister will send him his passports with a declaration that diplomatic relations between the two governments have been broken off.

New York, April 21.—The submarine boat, Holland, in the construction and perfection of which the inventor, John P. Holland, has spent the greater part of his life, was tested officially yesterday under the direction of a naval board of inspection, and proved a success.

The John P. Holland, commander of Inventor Holland and five others, the orders were to make a dive of 10 minutes' duration and come to the surface, then dive 10 minutes more and come up again; after this two more dives, each of 10 minutes' duration, then a run on the surface, when the aerial projectile and dummy torpedo were fired, and the boat was towed back to the pier. The boat did not reappear at the expiration of 10 minutes, and when 30 minutes had passed some of the spectators feared that she would not again come to the surface.

One of the soldiers spiked the conning tower of the Holland about a mile and half away at the end of 35 minutes, but this appearance of the craft was only momentary, for she disappeared again, and at the end of 35 minutes from the time she first went down she bobbed up and fired her aerial projectile, and her whistle blew. This was followed by the whistles of both tugs and the cheers of everyone aboard of them.

AFFAIRS IN KEY WEST.

Key West, April 21.—After the Cuban demonstration last night an affray occurred which shows that considerable feeling exists against the colored troops.
Sergeant Williams was with a brother officer examining a revolver at a street corner when a policeman asked him to put the weapon away. According to the story of the police, Williams refused and challenged the policeman to compel him. The policeman drew his revolver, but the weapon missed fire.
Meanwhile the soldier bled away. He was overpowered before anyone was hurt. During the struggle the negro several white men struck him in the face. Williams was locked up at the city hall.

Twenty minutes later 25 soldiers, fully armed with rifles and fixed bayonets, surrounded the house of Sheriff Knight and demanded that he release his prisoner. The sheriff was alone and he over. The negro troops gave him five minutes to comply with their demands, and he decided that discretion was the better part of valor and gave up his man. Colonel Daggett, when the latter feature of the affair was brought to his attention, said he would investigate it thoroughly and, if the report were true would discipline every man severely.

ANXIOUS TO ENLIST.

London, April 21.—Several British officers consulted with Colonel A. E. Bates the United States military attaché, yesterday as to whether they could secure commissions in the United States army.
One Woolwich artillery lieutenant declared his intention to apply for a commission in the United States army, and months leave, without giving any reason for so doing, and to enlist as a private in the United States army, if he is unable to do better, in order to study artillery in action.

not been ascertained on shore, but the answer was waved back. Still nine miles out. Will follow vessels. What the orders were are known only to the commanding officers of the fleet and the Cincinnati. As this was the first occasion when the guard was kept on duty all night and the following day, it indicates that as the climax of the international drama approaches Captain Sampson is resolved to allow no loophole for surprise.

Washington, April 21.—Late last night word was received of the departure of the Spanish fleet from the Cape Verde islands for a place unknown.

BREAD FAMINE POSSIBLE.

New York, April 21.—Grain exporters are in a hurry over the scarcity of vessels in which to send grain abroad.
During the past week foreign countries, principally France and England, have purchased enormous quantities of wheat, corn and oats in the United States because of the shortage in the United Kingdom and on the continent. This shortage is very large, and unless supplies from this country are secured, there is likely to be a bread famine abroad.

The imminence of war between this country and Spain has further alarmed the foreign markets, which fear a curtailment of supplies from America in the event of hostilities. The fear has led to the demand for immediate shipment of grain for nearby deliveries.

FEAR OF IRISH ALLIANCE.

New York, April 21.—The officers of the Irish National alliance have issued a call to the members to be prepared to show their fealty to the United States and respond promptly to any demand that may be made upon them by the government. It is pointed out that the men of the Irish race have never since 1776 failed in this respect. It is claimed that men of the alliance are numerous in both the army and navy, and that they also made a large muster in the national guard of the various states.

The Clan-na-gael guard of Chicago, which has already offered its services, is referred to as giving earnest of what may be expected from all independent regiments of the alliance. Ireland's day of liberty, it is asserted, will come as Cuba's has come.

WHISTLES AND BELLS.

Chicago, April 21.—As soon as the news was received here of the president signing the Cuban resolution and the ultimatum to Spain manufacturing establishments in different parts of the city were notified, and the action of the president was communicated to the people of Chicago and suburbs by the blowing of whistles and the ringing of bells.

THE FIRST SHIPLOAD.

New York, April 21.—A Mallory line steamer has been chartered to carry the first shipload of relief supplies to Cuba. She will leave New York for Key West on Friday or Saturday, flying the Red Cross flag. If hostilities are broken out before her arrival there she will proceed to Havana under convoy, according to the terms of the Geneva treaty of 1864.

WHAT BOSTON EDITORS THINK.

Boston, April 21.—Referring to Spain's subtleties, The Advertiser says: "Everything that patient forbearance, scrupulous fulfillment of our international obligations, and long continued proofs of a fixed purpose combined with great consideration for Spain's self-respect, could do was done to bring about a peaceable, honorable and just settlement. All was in vain."

Now that congress has voted, now that the president has signed the resolution, now that the ultimatum has been issued, The Post holds that "it is well for ever interest involved that matters shall proceed from now on sharply and decisively."

The Globe says: "It is not a declaration of war. On the contrary, it is a proclamation of peace to a war-ridden community."

The Journal remarks: "The United States is determined, Spain is defiant, the nations of the world are anxious. At the first shot doubt and discussion cease and action begins. At the first shot every American must be for his country or against her."

BRICKS MADE TO FLY.

Boston, April 21.—A special to The Herald from Elaine, Mo., says: "Hill W. Sanford's new law office at Elaine, Mo., was blown up Wednesday morning by gunpowder wrapped in cotton batting, which was let down the chimney at the end of a rope. When Mr. Sanford built a fire in the stove there was an awful explosion which wrecked the chimney and blew out the windows on the side of the building. Mr. Sanford narrowly escaped injury from the flying bricks.
The perpetrators of the deed evidently made their preparations during the night, and their identity has not been discovered."

Mrs. Wm. Ball, of No. 2 Hill street, says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills and so did my husband. Both of us received great benefit from the pills, and we unite in recommending them to others. We read about them in the newspapers, and as we both were suffering at the time we got a box at Fairbanks' pharmacy, on Congress street. I was troubled with a grinding pain in my back, dizziness and distress in my head, and lameness over my kidneys.
My husband had lameness in the back and the occasional pain in the kidneys occurred to frequently, and particularly at night, which greatly disturbed his rest.
We commenced using them together and it was not very long before the desired if not expected result took place. We are so pleased with Doan's Kidney Pills, that you are at liberty to use our names in making known the fact that we never used a better remedy, and that we conscientiously think they will act the same on any

THE HERALD.
A YOUNG FORGER
Sixteen Year Old West End Boy a Self-Confessed Criminal
A 16 year old boy, son of a well known West end man, was taken into custody by Marshal Estwistle this forenoon for forging the name of John G. Tobey, Jr., to a receipt for house rent. It seems that the youngster was sent by his father to Mr. Tobey to pay four dollars, the balance of his house rent.
On his way to Mr. Tobey's office the boy found a blank receipt and going to Langdon park he filled out the receipt and signing Mr. Tobey's name to it, took it to his father. Nothing more was thought about it until a day or so ago when the gentleman was reminded that there was still four dollars due on his house rent.
That let the cat out of the bag and as the youngster stuck to it that Mr. Tobey had given him the receipt the matter was placed in the hands of the police. Marshal Estwistle with his usual diplomacy soon had a complete confession from the boy. Mr. Tobey will not prosecute the erring youngster as he thinks the lesson he has received this time will last him all through life
A BUILDING BOOM
Large Number of New Buildings Going Up This Season
A building boom has struck this city, notwithstanding the hard times. Several new structures are now under way, and more are to be built at once. Contractor Gerald E. Paul has completed bids for the construction of the addition to the New Marlboro hotel, to be of wood, two stories high, 43 feet deep and 20 feet in width, affording ten new rooms. Mr. Paul is also to construct an ocean pier for the Honor Frank Jones at the Hotel Wentworth, to be 70 feet long, by 18 feet in width, with a pavilion and bath house 91 feet long. At Granite State park, Mr. Jones will construct a horse shed 891 feet long by 15 feet deep. The three story wooden building on Bridge street, being built for J. H.
Swett of Kittery, by Mr. Paul, is to be completed this season, and will be used as a wholesale candy manufactory. Officer Kelley of the local police force has completed plans and contracted for a house at the West End
NASON'S CASE
It May be Continued Until the October Term of Court
It is probable that Nason, alias Peter Shackley, now awaiting trial at Ossipee, and at present at the jail in this city, will be taken to Ossipee tomorrow, where he will be arraigned upon the charge of stealing a harness. Counsel for Nason are trying to have this charge dropped and the charge for murder brought directly instead. If he is held on the larceny case, it will mean a confinement of a year or more in a state prison, whereas, if he is allowed to go on this, the more serious charge of murder would be brought up and continued until the October term. It is now thought that counsel on both sides will agree to this and that Nason's case will be continued. In the meantime the prisoner would remain in his present quarters. The matter will probably be determined tomorrow.
TAKEN BACK HOME
Demented Lad Who Escaped from His Keeper Captured in Greenland
The young demented lad who escaped from his keeper in Newington on Tuesday evening, as mentioned exclusively in the HERALD, has been found and is now under the strict surveillance of his relatives. About 5 o'clock he walked into the depot at North Greenland a forlorn looking object. Wild eyed, and his clothes soaking wet, he presented a very pitiful appearance. Station Agent Smart induced him to come in and rest for a while and then immediately notified Constable Drew of Newington. The boy's keeper was soon on the way to the depot and in a short time had given his charge proper nourishment and dry clothes. He was taken back to Boston, as it was deemed best for him to be where his parents were and he would not have the chance to escape so readily.
Another Promising Player Ira Newick, the well known bicycle rider and promising young ball tosser, left for Newport, R. I., this morning where he has been engaged to play ball on the Newport team in the New England league this season. Newick is a steady going young fellow and with a little coaching will no doubt make a good man for the team. He first came into prominence by pitching on the High school ball team and later played with a number of heavier local teams. He is an all round athlete and as far as his is concerned, is a good deal like Portsmouth's "dick," Walter Woods. Last year Newport tied Brookton for first place in the New England league and no doubt has just as good a team this year so that Newick will be in first company. His record as a bicycle rider won him great fame all over the state and his career as a ball tosser will be closely watched, especially by his hosts of friends in this city.

Higher Prices Looked For The price of beef has advanced quite a little during the past week going up over 50 cents per hundred pounds, and the meat men are expecting to hear of higher prices within a day or two.
The price of groceries has not advanced any the past week but now the almost cer-ainty of war will, it is said, by some growers, make the prices very uncertain until waters are settled.
